HUD & VA TEAM UP TO PROVIDE PERMANENT HOMES TO 100 HOMELESS VETERANS IN MID-MISSOURI

HUD-VASH vouchers to build on 17 percent decline in veteran homelessness since 2009

WASHINGTON – Approximately 100 homeless veterans living on the streets and in shelters in mid-Missouri will soon find a permanent place to call home. U.S. Housing and Urban Development (HUD) Secretary Shaun Donovan and U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) Secretary Eric K. Shinseki announced today that HUD will provide $60 million to local public housing agencies across the country to provide permanent supportive housing to homeless veterans, many of whom are living with chronic disabling conditions. The Columbia, Mo. Housing Authority will receive $57,550 to assist homeless veterans.

The supportive housing assistance announced today is provided through the HUD-Veterans Affairs Supportive Housing (HUD-VASH) Program which combines rental assistance from HUD with case management and clinical services provided by VA. Since 2008, a total of 48,385 vouchers have been awarded and 42,557 formerly homeless veterans are currently in homes because of HUD-VASH. The local dollars received will pay for 15 additional vouchers, bringing the total number of vouchers to 90 for homeless veterans in mid-Missouri.

Donovan and Shinseki announced this additional support for homeless veterans in an address to the National Coalition for Homeless Veterans Annual Conference today in Washington. Find out how much of this assistance will help homeless veterans in your area.

“Our veterans have answered the call of duty. That’s why our nation has its own duty – to help homeless servicemen and women rejoin the very communities they have given so much to protect,” said Donovan. “These grants make it possible to help more veterans obtain housing, bringing us steps closer to our goal of ending veteran homelessness by 2015.”

“These HUD-VASH vouchers are a critical resource to accomplish our shared goal of ending Veterans’ homelessness in 2015,” Shinseki said. “With the continued support of President Obama, Congress, and our community partners, we will end homelessness among Veterans and provide these brave men and women with the earned care and benefits that help them live productive, meaningful lives.”

“With programs like HUD-VASH, we will end veteran homelessness by 2015 in mid-Missouri one veteran at a time,” said Sarah Froese, supervisor of the psychosocial rehabilitation team and homeless veterans programs at the Harry S. Truman Memorial Veterans’ Hospital in Columbia, Mo. Froese reported that more than 500 veterans were served last year in the array of homeless veterans programs at Truman VA Hospital.

HUD-VASH is a critical part of the Obama Administration's commitment to end Veteran and long-term chronic homelessness by 2015. Opening Doors: Federal Strategic Plan to Prevent and End Homelessness serves as a roadmap for how the federal government will work with state and local communities to confront the root causes of homelessness, especially among former servicemen and women. HUD's annual "point in time" estimate of the number of homeless persons and families for 2012 found that veteran homelessness fell by 7.2 percent (or 4,876 people) since January 2011 and by 17.2 percent since January 2009. On a single night in January 2012, 62,619 veterans were homeless.

The grants announced today are part of $75 million appropriated this year to support the housing needs of homeless veterans. Local public housing authorities provide rental assistance to homeless veterans while nearby VA Medical Centers (VAMC) offer supportive services and case management. This is the first round of the 2013 HUD-VASH funding. HUD expects to announce more HUD-VASH funding this summer.

VAMCs work closely with homeless veterans then refer them to public housing agencies for these vouchers, based upon a variety of factors, most importantly the duration of the homelessness and the need for longer term more intensive support to obtain and maintain permanent housing. The HUD-VASH program includes both the rental assistance the voucher provides and the comprehensive case management that VAMC staff provides.

Veterans participating in the HUD-VASH program rent privately owned housing and generally contribute no more than 30 percent of their income toward rent. VA offers eligible homeless veterans clinical and supportive services through its medical centers across the U.S., Guam and Puerto Rico.

*VA is the federal government's second-largest cabinet office. Secretary Shinseki has outlined three key priorities for the department: increase Veteran access to VA services and benefits, eliminate the disability claims backlog, and end Veteran homelessness. VA provides health care to more than 6 million people each year, in 91 million outpatient visits and 960,000 hospitalizations. This year, VA will provide over $1 billion in specialized homeless program funding, more than $58 billion annually in disability pay and pensions to 4.5 million Americans, $10 billion in educational assistance, $1 billion for home loans and $2.6 billion for life insurance. ### VA Hires More Than 1,600 Mental Health Professionals to Meet Goal, Expands Access to Care and Outreach Efforts Truman VA Hires Six New Mental Health Professionals

Columbia, Mo. – The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) announced that it has met the goal to hire 1,600 new mental health professionals outlined in President Obama's August 31, 2012, Executive Order to Improve Access to Mental Health Services for Veterans, Service Members, and Military Families. The Harry S. Truman Memorial Veterans' Hospital has hired six new mental health professionals and an additional eight to fill existing vacancies.

"I am proud of the hard work our staff has completed to bring these new staff members on board," said Truman VA Director Sallie Houser-Hanfelder. "We are not slowing our efforts however, and will continue to actively recruit for any vacant mental health positions for the future so Veterans will get the care they need. Truman VA continues to provide health care and mental health services to more Veterans each year. Last year, nearly 36,000 mid-Missouri Veterans were served by the Columbia facility and its community clinics.

As of May 31, 2013, VA has hired a total of 1,607 mental health clinical providers to meet the goal of 1,600 new mental health professionals outlined in the Executive Order. Additionally, VA has hired 2,005 mental health clinical providers to fill existing vacancies.

"Meeting this hiring milestone significantly enhances our ability to improve access to care for those Veterans seeking mental health services and demonstrates our continued commitment to the health and well-being of the men and women who have served the Nation,” said Secretary of Veterans Affairs Erick K. Shinseki. “Meeting this goal is an important achievement, but we recognize that we must continue to increase access to the quality mental health care Veterans have earned and deserve.”

VA provides a full range of comprehensive mental health services across the country. In Fiscal Year 2012, more than 1.3 million Veterans received specialized mental health care from VA. This number has risen each year from 927,052 in Fiscal Year 2006. In addition to hiring more mental health professionals, VA is expanding the use of innovative technology to serve Veterans in rural and underserved areas. VA expects to increase the number of Veterans receiving care from tele-mental health services in Fiscal Year 2013 and has increased the number of Vet Centers from 233 in 2008 to 300 in 2012. Vet Centers provide readjustment counseling and referral services.

In November 2011, VA launched an award-winning, national public awareness campaign called Make the Connection, which is aimed at reducing the stigma associated with seeking mental health care and informing Veterans, their families, friends, and members of their communities about VA resources. More information on Make the Connection can be found at www.maketheconnection.net.

Truman VA Hospital Offers E-Donate to Support Local Veterans

Columbia, Mo. – The Harry S. Truman Memorial Veterans' Hospital announced the availability of E-Donate, an online donation option at www.columbiamo.va.gov that will provide community members who wish to give back to Veterans at the medical center a simple and safe way to pledge their support to the fund of their choice.

"We've known for years that citizens want to show their support to the service members who have defended their freedoms," said Truman VA Director Sallie Houser-Hanfelder. "While not everyone will have the time to volunteer or contribute in person, now anyone can take five minutes online to thank Veterans in any number of ways."

The E-Donate option allows donors to select from a number of funds at Truman VA for which they wish to donate. Additionally, since Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) administrative costs are appropriated, donors can be sure that 100 percent of their donations go to funds they select and for the Veteran patients they are choosing to support.

"Donated money at Truman VA goes to support our recreation, chaplain, emergency social services, homeless Veterans, personal hygiene items as well as our general purpose fund," said Sheila Brocaille, Acting Voluntary Service Officer. "People would be amazed if they could see how far their donations go toward making a difference in the lives of the Veterans we serve."

Donors can find the E-Donate button at www.columbiamo.va.gov. The actual donation is made through a secure site at the Department of Treasury's www.pay.gov. A minimum of $5 is required for online donation.

VA Grants Going to (State) Agencies to Help End Veterans Homelessness

Initiative Targets 120,000 Homeless and At-Risk Vets and Families

COLUMBIA, Mo. – Secretary of Veterans Affairs Eric K. Shinseki announced today the award of $ 186,900 in homeless prevention grant to the Missouri counties of: Audrain, Boone, Callaway, Camden, Chariton, Cole, Cooper, Gasconade, Howard, Macon, Maries, Miller, Moniteau, Monroe, Montgomery, Morgan, Phelps, Pettis, Pulaski, Randolph, and Saline. The grants will serve approximately 50 homeless and at-risk Veteran families as part of the Supportive Services for Veteran Families (SSVF) program. This award will serve Veterans families associated with Welcome Home, Inc., one of 319 community agencies in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands.

“With these grants, we are strengthening our partnership with community non-profits across the country to provide Veterans and their families with hope, a home, and a future,” said Shinseki. “The work of Supportive Services for Veteran Families program grantees has already helped us prevent and end homelessness among tens of thousands of homeless Veterans and their families, but as long as a single Veteran lives on our streets, we have work to do.”

Under the Supportive Services for Veteran Families (SSVF) program, VA is awarding grants to private non-profit organizations and consumer cooperatives that provide services to very low-income Veteran families living in -- or transitioning to -- permanent housing.

Those community organizations provide a range of services that promote housing stability among eligible very low income Veteran families.

Thanks to the SSVF grants, those community organizations will provide a range of services that promote housing stability and play a key role in connecting Veterans and their family members to VA services such as mental health care and other benefits.

More

Community-based groups can offer temporary financial assistance on behalf of Veterans for rent payments, utility payments, security deposits and moving costs.

This is the program's third year. Last year, VA provided about $100 million to assist approximately 50,000 Veterans and family members.

In 2009, President Obama and Secretary Shinseki announced the federal government's goal to end Veteran homelessness in 2015. The grants are intended to help accomplish that goal. According to the 2012 Point-in-Time Estimates of Homelessness, homelessness among Veterans has declined 17.2 percent since 2009.

Through the homeless Veterans initiative, VA committed over $1 billion in fiscal year 2013 to strengthen programs that prevent and end homelessness among Veterans. VA provides a range of services to homeless Veterans, including health care, housing, job training, and education.

More information about VA's homeless programs is available at www.va.gov/homeless. Details about the Supportive Services for Veteran Families program are online at www.va.gov/homeless/ssvf.asp. ### Truman VA Hospital Director Leaving *Appointed to VA Executive Position in Central Texas

Columbia, Mo. – Sallie Houser-Hanfelder, director of the Harry S. Truman Memorial Veterans' Hospital since Oct. 29, 2006, has been appointed director of the Central Texas VA Health Care System in Temple, Tex. effective Aug. 11.

"Words cannot express my appreciation for the opportunities that I have had working with the dedicated staff and employees at Truman VA," said Houser-Hanfelder. "I am proud of our accomplishments and the exceptional service we have provided to mid-Missouri Veterans."

During her tenure at the Columbia VA facility, her leadership has resulted in significant budget allocation increases, employee and program growth and Veterans served. Truman VA has experienced net increases in Veterans treated by 12.5 percent (+3,900), annual outpatient visits by 30 percent (+91,300) and employees by 30 percent (+324) since fiscal year 2007. Three new community based outpatient clinics have been added with two other clinics moving to new sites during her tenure. Her leadership enabled the organization to significantly improve performance in areas such as patient safety, internal and external communications, customer service and stakeholder involvement. A diverse and effective learning organization was developed and initiatives such as new mental health programs, programs for homeless Veterans, patient aligned care teams in primary care and the facility's cardiac care programs have been enhanced. The VA medical center exceeded mission critical measures in quality, patient satisfaction and access. Truman VA's receipt of a 2012 Robert W. Carey Performance Excellence Award, based on Baldrige performance excellence criteria, and the VA Secretary's

Third Annual Award for Diversity and Inclusion was further evidence of her successful leadership. Finally, she developed and implemented a robust and comprehensive strategic capital plan with major clinical involvement and participation that resulted in more than $60 million in projects under construction or on the design board. Those construction projects have enhanced the facility's ability to deliver outstanding, high quality health care services.

A national search for Houser-Hanfelder's replacement has begun. An announcement about an interim medical center director will be forthcoming.

What Veterans Deserve

Eric K. Shinseki, Secretary of Veterans Affairs

November 11, 2013

(572 Words)

Last month, President Obama awarded the Medal of Honor to former Captain William D. Swenson, United States Army, for heroism and gallantry above and beyond the call of duty in the Battle of the Ganjgal Valley on September 8, 2009.

During 6 hours of intense combat, Captain Swenson did everything expected of leaders and more—keeping his ambushed unit fighting effectively, directing available fires, evacuating the wounded, and leading by example in repeatedly risking his personal safety to retrieve wounded Soldiers and Marines, Afghan allies, and fallen comrades.

Captain Will Swenson would tell you that there were many more heroes in the Ganjgal that day.

In the President's words, "[In] moments like this, Americans like Will remind us of what our country can be at its best—a Nation of citizens who look out for one another; who meet our obligations to one another, not just when it is easy, but also when it's hard. Maybe, especially when it's hard."

At the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA), we are honored to walk amongst, as well as work with, such heroes every day.

Today, less than 1% of our population shoulders the responsibilities of our national defense through their service in uniform, and just over 7% of all living Americans are Veterans. Veterans Day presents the opportunity to ask ourselves, "For their selfless service and willing sacrifice, what do Veterans need and deserve?"

What Veterans deserve is access to high quality and safe healthcare, benefits and services that buoy them against the rigors of military service, education that prepares them fully for their next success, safe and affordable housing, and meaningful and satisfying employment. At VA, we are privileged to deliver on the promises of the American people to those from whom we ask everything.

In the last 5 years, we have enrolled more than two million Veterans into VA healthcare. Since March of this year, we have reduced the backlog in compensation claims from a record high of 611,000 to about 400,000, a decrease of 211,000 claims in 230 days—while increasing the accuracy of claims we process. We will eliminate the backlog in compensation claims in 2015.

We also committed to ending Veterans homelessness in 2015. Between 2009 and 2012, during a period of prolonged economic recovery, we have reduced the number of homeless Veterans by 17%, breaking previous patterns of increased homelessness during difficult economies. More needs to be done, but we have achieved a remarkable reversal. We expect another decrease this year.

Our gratitude for Veterans should not be a one day a year event, but an abiding commitment on every day of every year. There must be no question that this large and powerful country will meet its obligations to them with the same urgency, skill, and determination as it deploys them on critical missions when our Nation calls.

On this Veterans Day, every Veterans Day hereafter, and every day between them, Veterans must know that this Nation will keep Lincoln's promise to care for those "who shall have borne the battle" and their families.

I am honored to serve with the dedicated people of VA, and we are all privileged to serve with a President who has provided over a 56% increase to our budget requests so we can provide for the 7% of Americans, who are Veterans, what they need, deserve, and have earned. They answered their calls to duty; let us continue to answer ours.

Truman VA Hospital Named to Joint Commission's "Top Performers" List

WASHINGTON – The Harry S. Truman Memorial Veterans' Hospital in Columbia, Mo., was recently recognized as a top performer on key health care quality measures for 2012 by The Joint Commission, an independent panel that accredits and certifies health care organizations. .

“We are proud of the medical facilities that have been recognized for demonstrating VA’s commitment to provide the high-quality care our Veterans have earned through their service,” said Secretary of Veterans Affairs Eric K. Shinseki. “This achievement highlights the hard work of our VA medical staff to serve Veterans.”

Truman VA Hospital was one of 32 VA medical centers that received the recognition. While all 151 VA medical facilities are accredited by The Joint Commission, the list recognizes facilities that are the top performers based on The Joint Commission’s annual review of evidence-based care that is closely linked to positive patient outcomes. This program recognizes Joint Commission-accredited hospitals for a significant achievement in measures that produce the greatest positive impact on patient outcomes. The Joint Commission recognized 19 VA medical facilities as top performers in 2011/2012 and 20 VA medical facilities in 2010.

“VA health care has been a leader in performance measurement, electronic health records, research and clinical quality for more than a decade,” said VA Undersecretary for Health Dr. Robert Petzel. “I am proud of the staff, who work hard every day to care for America’s Veterans.”

The Joint Commission is a not-for-profit organization that ensures the quality of U.S. health care by its intensive evaluation of more than 20,000 health care organizations. In addition to being named in this report, this year’s top performers are highlighted at www.jointcommission.org and The Joint Commission’s Quality Check website at www.qualitycheck.org.
